

Embracing Technology: Installation of Starlink on Meiji Shipping Fleet

Meiji Shipping Group has always been ahead in embracing changes and adopting new technologies to enhance the safety of our operations and the well-being of our seafarers. We are proud to announce that we have decided to equip our entire fleet with Starlink technology. After successfully testing the technology on different types of ships in various trading areas, we are confident in the significant impact that Starlink will bring to our fleet.

With the installation of Starlink, we will be able to provide better connectivity between seafarers and their loved ones, enabling faster outcomes and decision-making and saving precious time. This will also facilitate close cooperation between the Shore and Ship teams, making communication quick and affordable. Starlink has fulfilled the missing link in shipping and has revolutionized the way we communicate onboard.

Moreover, the installation of Starlink will encourage the younger generation to join shipping as it removes the biggest hesitation in their minds - limited connectivity onboard. We are thrilled to take this step towards a brighter future for the shipping industry and are confident that it will have a significant impact overall.
